Instructional Designer

Job ID 3026886

Status part-time/temp

Starting Salary $20-25/hr

Application Deadline: 11:59pm, W, Nov 17, 2024

Location: remote

As our Instructional Designer, you will create e-learning courses for Economic Assistance team members so they can provide the highest quality service to their consumers.

Every day, you will collaborate with Economic Assistance subject matter experts and HR's Learning & Development team to design and build e-learning courses. This may require converting Teams meetings and/or PowerPoint presentations to an effective e-learning course. It could mean building from scratch based on a SME's outline. You'll author engaging training activities and materials using Articulate 360 products.

To thrive in this position, you must be curious and a learner. You must be able to communicate effectively with all types of people, translating and filtering content from experts to learners. While you partner well with others, you enjoy focusing intensely on a project to timely completion.

To be considered for this position you must have extensive experience using Articulate 360 products and instructional design concepts to build e-learning courses and job aids. This experience must include working with unfamiliar topics, using subject matter experts, and meeting tight timelines.

Position Status: This position is part-time temporary and will conclude no later than August 2024. This position will need to work 20-25 hours per week. Some of those hours will need to be worked between 8am to 5pm, weekdays, for meetings with subject matter experts, partners, and the L&D team.
